

Attention Parents of Students with Disabilities in the Cincinnati area!

The University of Cincinnati University Center for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities (UC UCEDD) and Disability Rights Ohio (DRO) invite you to an open forum to discuss your child's experiences with special education services. During the forum, Disability Rights Ohio will discuss the Doe vs. the State of Ohio education lawsuit. This case involves the claim that the state does not give enough money to school districts to provide free and appropriate public education to students with disabilities. Parents will learn why this case is important to children with disabilities. Sharing your experiences can help improve the education system.

Please register early to reserve your seat at one of the following forums:
